About Ethan West

Ethan West is a business development professional with a proven ability to drive growth and deliver results for advisory firms and their clients. As a Director of Client Service at 8020 Consulting, he works closely with CFOs, Controllers, and private equity firms to provide targeted support in operational accounting, audit readiness, M&A integration, and ERP implementations.

Before joining 8020, Ethan helped build and scale advisory practices at Baker Tilly, supporting high-growth and PE-backed companies. He takes a strategic, client-first approach—ensuring engagements are staffed with the right expertise and focused on delivering measurable value. Ethan holds a B.S. in Business Management from Texas A&M University and is based in Dallas. He is passionate about helping companies operate more efficiently and reach their long-term goals.
